This online workshop is offered as an introduction to The Nurtured Heart Approach® and is designed for any overwhelmed parent, educator, or clinician who has found conventional methods have fallen short in helping children with intense behaviors thrive despite the best of intentions.

This workshop will provide a snapshot into this model, which intends to help children and parents, educators, and clinicians in the following ways:

- Shift a challenging child to use his or her intensity in successful ways, even if the child is diagnosed with ADHD, ODD, or exhibits other difficult behavior
- Gain tools for building the Inner Wealth™ of the child to cultivate inner strength
- Learn how to set clear boundaries and limits to empower yourself and your children
